The New Old School delivers an old school message with a new flow. Inspired by Romans 1:16, “For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ” the project articulates the need to be bold with the Gospel. Domingo aims to bring the Gospel in a new light while expounding on traditional themes. Forgiveness is a concept that’s often talked about but difficult to implement. Domingo adds, “Since God forgives, I do too. This song is a declaration to have grace on others through forgiveness. Regardless of the world’s perspective on forgiveness, in light of Christ’s sacrifice on the cross I’m compelled to forgive others since I’m forgiven.” In a world that has a plethora of negative ideas, music and media, The New Old School offers an alternative. The Gospel changes people and the transformed group impacts the world. Domingo adds, “This project is a way to encourage this generation that loving the Lord with all our heart, mind and soul is what we are to do. When Christ is first, then we can deliver the “new fresh sound” to a world that needs to hear music glorifying the Lord.”

The project features Applejaxx, Trini, Disciple (Di), Nia Ferguson, Jordan Felisbret and Shiron Dubose. Kajmir Royale produced all songs except one produced by Tech Groove.
