The youngest artists on the Reach Records roster will release his debut album Weight & Glory next Tuesday July 17th. We have heard it and won't air our opinions and sway yours before you hear it, but we do think that this will be the highest selling debut album that comes from the Reach camp. You'll definitely want to take the time and get the full listening experience exclusively on our iPhone & Android app this Sunday the 15th. If you don't have the app you can get it here. If you want to wait until Monday the 16th you can hear it right here on Rapzilla.com. What song are you most excited to hear from looking at the tracklist?
