The number of projects coming out in 2013 has just increased. MC Jin, who has become one of the most consistent artists in our genre, announced that he's beginning to work on a new album entitled 'Hypocrite' which is set to release this summer.

In 2012 he released 'Crazy Love Ridiculous Faith', 'Brand New Me EP', performed at Flavor Fest in Tampa and Legacy in Chicago, rapped in the BET 106 & Park Freestyle Friday Hall of Fame Cypher and featured on many noteworthy projects. It seems like the hard hitting lyricist is going keep the momentum going. Stay tuned for more info.
