Young Noah no longer a Clear Sight Music artist?

Written by Paul Martinez Thursday, 17 January 2013 10:48

Update:Clear Sign Music will release information soon.

Recently we announced that Young Noah was working on Volume 2 of his mixtape series. Visiting Clear Sight Music's official website it appears that Young Noah is no longer a part of the roster. When you click on artists you will only see information on Flame and V.Rose. His twitter doesn't send people to Clear Sight's website for bookings. Not long ago, Young Noah said he was blessed to start an urban ministry called "Dirty Work Ministries". When you go to Dirty Work's website, it can come off like Young Noah has his own group of artists that includes Dre Mac, Bruh Mike and Plain James. Also a Dirty Work Ministries Mixtape has been announced so they are planning to release music. Is Young Noah an independent artist now? Could he be starting his own record label? We asked Clear Sight Music to comment, awaiting response.

Leave a comment with what you think.